Team pricing does not apply to the Player's guests. Guests pay regular price or advertised special pricing any time they visit Adrenaline. Teams can approach management for special prices for guest teams they have invited to practice. This should be done days in advance.

- The Team you play agrees to sponsor one Big Game or Special Event during the season with all the players on the team helping to ensure that the event, or an alternate event runs smoothly by helping for a full day with tasks suggested by Adrenaline management. This is your Optional "work day" and you can do it at any of the big events Adrenaline needs help with. This is the same full day that regular staffer's work, this included set up, tear down and garbage PLEASE do not ditch; leaving 3 or 4 poor soles left to clean up for hours what would take the whole crew 30 minutes. You must notify whom ever is in charge that day that you are leaving. If you opt out, you will not qualify for the free silver membership the following season. A silver membership is worth $279.00+tx. You get it free

- Friends and family that a player that requests Pitt access for must be approved by the captain and must be agreeable to all team members.
- Special permission must be acquired to move from Practice to rec ball. It is not appropriate for "Pro" players to join walk on. This is an ongoing problem that the company has to crack down on. If you want to play Recball, recruit a few team members and do it on your own.

Paint Pooling

The purpose of pooling paint is to make the cost of practice fair. Back players should shoot double what a front or snake player may shoot. less. Everyone should be encouraged to practice the full pace. Back players would only practice ½ as much as other players without pooling. Back players may be conservative during competitive play.

Paint will be pooled at events. Pooling means that the cost is divided evenly between all players, no matter how many points are played, or which position is played. Leftover paint will be used at the next official practice. The team captain may adjust the paint pool cost if a player is an affiliate or guest that is not playing in the regular rotations.

Paint maybe pooled at Official practices; this is voluntary, it is also fairer.
